CLASSIFICATION:

Grace Foster grew up as the eighth child of 12 in Michigan. Her family had an interiors business in which she got a lot of experience working.

At 21 she moved to Wisconsin where she later met and married her husband, Wayne, who now owns a semiconductor business in Pleasanton. They have two grown daughters, and Grace's hobby is photography.

During a downturn in the semiconductor industry, Grace went to work selling closet systems drawing on her experience from her family's interiors business.

She searched for a closet company that also did installation; she found that in the Closet Factory, whose installers have been with them from nearly day one.

The Closet Factory specialized in storage systems such as offices, entertainment centers, garages, and laundry rooms in addition to closets; however, they don't do kitchens. They offer a wide variety of products from melamine and foiled MDF to real wood.

The Closet Factory can install storage systems in more than 117 territories throughout the world, and is Diamond Certified.

A good lead for Grace is anyone who needs storage systems. Call Grace at (650) 595-9999.
