INVOICES:

The invoices that went out last week were missing the message: "Please deduct $50 if paid within 30 days" (by 7/22). The offer is still valid. Please excuse the mistake.

VALUE:

JoDee Moore of AireServ says that the obvious value of membership in the Tri-

Valley Executives is the leads and direct business with the other members, but the friendships and "life advice" is just as valuable. She expresses her gratitude for some wise words from Pam Meyer that have helped her with a difficult situation in her life.

CLASSIFICATION:

Phil Maser was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, but grew up, from the age of 6, in Oakland, California. He graduated high school in Walnut Creek, and although he graduated from the University of San Francisco with an accounting degree, he never went into the business.

As the oldest son, he helped take care of many of the duties in keeping the house maintained. His father was an electrical contractor and was able to get him into the union, which gave him the valuable experience that he counts on today.

Phil ended up selling machined tools in the Bay Area for about 10 years before going into the business for himself for another 20 years. After getting out of that line of work, he considered what he would do next. Knowing that he really couldn't go back to work for someone else, after working for himself, he started a handyman business and got his general contractors license.

He specializes in bathroom remodels, but can do it all. He says that it is important to become friends with those that he works for, as trust is a priority when working in someone's home.
