THANK YOU:

"To the Group, Thank you so much for the wonderfully generous gift for our girls. We greatly appreciate it. Sophia & Claire bring us much joy. They are more aware of their surroundings in the past couple of weeks and they smile often. This is my greatest thrill as a parent to date. Thanks again. To all of you, Best Wishes, Jon

"We want to thank you all so very much for the very generous Babies 'R' Us gift card. It was very thoughtful and was greatly appreciated. We decided to put the money toward our car seats, so the certificate helped put a huge dent towards getting those. Again, the gesture is greatly appreciated and we thank you all. Thanks, Kari, Jon, Claire & Sophia [Gresham]"

CLASSIFICATION:

Dana Schumacher grew up in San Ramon, graduating from Cal High. Her parents sent her to DVC to prove to them that she could handle college before they'd pay for a four-year school.

While attending DVC, she got a job working part time for PacBell. She excelled and was moved into management pretty quickly. Although lured by the money and the career, she did complete two years at DVC. Then, like so many women do, she followed a boy and moved to Nashville for 9 years.

When that ended, she decided to move back to California. Four years ago, she again worked for SBC, formerly PacBell. But when SBC was bought out by AT&T, they couldn't live up to what she was promising her customers, so she went to work for TelePacific Communications three months ago.

TelePacific Communications provides a full suite of voice and data services: local and long distance plans to suit every business, integrated services and data services. The new "hot button" in the industry is voice-over IP. She says that it is okay for some small businesses, but mostly works for only large companies. The major problems are power outages that cause you to lose all service and the 911 system does not work with this service.

Gary Chang of Tri-Valley Internet, who introduced Dana to the TVEA, was formerly employed at TelePacific and affirmed the exceptional company, which is run by a former founder of a "baby Bell" that eventually became Verizon.

Dana has been very impressed with their customer service, boasts a less than 1% churn rate. She offers a free no-pressure evaluation of your phone bill to see if you have the correct rate plan for your company.

Dana's hobbies are her niece and nephew, cooking, gardening and sports... and oh, yeah, she's single!

To have Dana evaluate your calling plan or to refer her to someone who needs phone service, call her at 408-240-2190.
