CLASSIFICATION:

Joey Minahan is one of ten children and grew up on a dairy farm in a small Wisconsin town. She attended business college in Illinois and worked in finance in Chicago.

One day a friend talked to her about moving to California; tired of the Chicago cold, she decided to join her friend. Her friend backed out at the last minute, but Joey decided to go anyway. She settled in San Francisco and worked for Levi Strauss and then for Bank of America in purchasing.

She met and married Mike who was a carpenter by trade. Since the job market was bleak, Mike started doing jobs on his own and discovered a void in door specialists. He and Joey decided to open a showroom that was first in Livermore, and now in Pleasanton. Joey & Mike's son, Justin is now working with them in the family business.

The Door Doctor specializes in both interior and exterior doors. They carry doors of wood, glass, metal and fiberglass, which is gaining popularity due to its longevity, low maintenance and look.

They also sell all kinds of garage door openers; the new belt drive is nice and quiet. The normal life of a garage door opener is 15 years and should be tuned up every 1 ½ to 2 years.

They have garage door remote openers for the car, keychain and keyless entry code pads, as well as multi-door remotes. There is a new motion sensor for the garage light that will come on and stay on while there is any motion in the garage.

Interior doors are still one of the best deals out there; for about a couple thousand dollars, you can have all of your interior doors in your house installed and painted, usually a 1-2 day process.

If you or someone you know needs interior or exterior doors, please call Mike and Joey at the Door Doctor 484-4290.
