As an expert in his field, Dr. Barry Winston not only has a successful practice, Amador Valley Optometric, but is a professor at UC Berkeley School of Optometry.

He's been in business for 30 years and is an expert at diagnosing complex problems. If it's not a procedure that he performs, he confidently refers specialists that he knows will take care of his patients, since he also handles the aftercare. 40% of the business at Amador Valley Optometric is patients coming in for routine exams; 30% is medical in nature and 30% is contacts and glasses.

Dr. Barry recommends looking into alternative vision plans, such as VSP, that offer affordable vision coverage. 60% of his patients are insured by VSP, 10% is Medicare and 30% is other health care companies and patient paid.

To find out if you're "looking" your best, call for an appointment with Dr. Barry Winston at Amador Valley Optometric 462-2600.
